HOLLOWAY'S PILLS
AND Holloway's Ointment.
The great principle that operates in these wonderful medicines is the power that they possess in purifying the blood, and expelling corrupt humors from the system.
HOLLOWAY'S PILLS consist of a careful and peculiar admixture of the mild yet powerful aperients, which have been found beneficial in all cases requiring a purge of mineral or vegetable origin, and not a single case where they have been taken according to the directions, but has been benefited at any time by subsequent use, or in a manner shown to be beneficial to the health of the patient. In female complaints they are invaluable, as a few doses will regulate the most irregular and obstinate cases, while a course of them will invigorate the most vigorous and powerful frame.
HOLLOWAY & CO., 80 Maiden Lane, New York.
Sold by all Druggists throughout the United States, and by all respectable Druggists throughout the world.
Price 25 cents, 62 cents, and $1 per box.

The Last Half Million
OF THE
7 PER CENT. GOLD BONDS
ISSUED BY THE
CHICAGO, ALTON & MISSOURI RIVER
Railroad Company.
Are now offered for sale, about $3,500,000 having already been sold.
The road (212 miles in length) is the air-line low-grade route to Chicago from the Indiana Coal Fields.
That portion of the road (132 miles) which has been in operation since December, 1871, has earned over and above all expenses, $262,313.48,
its interest obligation upon Bonds, for the same time, being but $160,416.67 gold.
The net earnings, increased from $15,833.48, in December, to $28,397.62, in October the latter being at the rate of $340,795.44 per annum. The total interest liability upon the total issue of Bonds upon the whole is $280,000 gold. The 132 miles are, therefore, earning, net, more than enough to pay interest upon the entire bonded debt upon the 212 miles.
These figures give the best assurance, to an student, that the First Mortgage Bonds of this Company are SAFE BEYOND QUESTION.
The Indiana Division, giving direct access to the coal mines, and completing the connection between them and Chicago, will be in operation by January 15th, and the earnings of the road will be thereafter largely increased.
The company is light in debt, and owns a large and very valuable real estate in Chicago, besides having an equipment of twenty-four first-class locomotives and about 800 cars.
The Bonds are at the rate of $18,500 per mile are for $1,000 each, and have forty years to run, the interest (at 7 per cent gold) payable in New York, April 1st, and October 1st.
The present price is 90 and interest from October 1st, the Company reserving the right to advance the price at any time.
Early orders are suggested, in order to secure any portion of this extremely desirable loan.

OAKES AMES AT BAY.

The recall of Oakes Ames and his supplementary testimony, after refreshing his some what remarkable memory, has imparted a fresh interest of a new sensation to the Credit Mobilier investigation, which had become somewhat monotonous and dull. The direct issue of veracity opened between Ames and Messrs. Colfax and Kelley with regard to their transactions, raises a doubt which is exceedingly painful to all who have reposed especial confidence in those gentlemen, while the apparently unanswerable evidence of duplicity on the part of Senator Patterson, who has hitherto borne a peculiarly undimmed reputation, is almost startling in its shock to the public faith in the value of character. For the faith we have had in the distinguished men whose names are now thrown to and fro on the breezes of scandal, we find ample justification in the record which they had made in conspicuous public station, and if they prove now that they have betrayed that faith, we shall offer no plea in bar of a merited public censure. But it seems to us, that in the sensational character which has been imparted to these revelations, not only by political animosity but by the journalistic tendency to "work up" all the details of such an appetizing scandal, we are likely to lose sight of some of the most important considerations upon which a final judgment in these cases must depend.

In the first place it is necessary to remember the character of the man whose veracity is now pitted against that of his victims. Mr. Ames has exhibited a willingness to testify to anything that would serve his purpose, and the very position which he claims for himself is that of one who deliberately sought to betray his fellow-members for his own gain. His word, therefore, unsupported by the strongest proofs is worth but little, although it presents a striking appearance under disputed head lines. In the case of Mr. Patterson, he has furnished his evidence with documentary confirmation which does not seem to admit of refutation; but in the other cases it is simply oath against oath, the word of Oakes Ames against those whom he sought to corrupt. And here, it is proper to recall an original fact in this controversy, which has been practically crowded out of sight in the later phases of the case: the fact that Oakes Ames is defendant in a suit brought by Messrs. Colfax and others to recover a large amount of stocks which Ames claimed to have distributed among Congressmen in the interest of the Company, but which prove to be still in his possession. If shares which he represented as disposed of to certain members, were subsequently refused by them, he would be clearly accountable to his associates to restore them. That they were so returned has been established by the evidence, and the whole of Ames' case depends upon showing that although the stocks are in his possession they really belong to the Congressmen mentioned. Mr. Colfax and his counsel have been pressing throughout, adroitly forcing out the fact that the property has never left the possession of Ames, and driven at bay, his sole course is to swear that he holds them in trust with the knowledge and consent of the parties. With the motive and the character of the man in view, the explicit denials of Messrs. Colfax, Kelley, Garfield and others are entitled to the strongest benefits of the doubt, until Ames corroborates his statements by other proofs than the convenient "memoranda" which he only produces by piecemeal and as the exigencies of his case require. In Senator Patterson's case he has done this, and it is incumbent on the latter to vindicate his character if he can.

We think the public, with whom we join in severely condemning the facility with which members of Congress were led to dabble in a questionable speculation, will concede the justice of our remarks, for we believe the better portion of our people would far rather see a reluctance on the part of the discretion than the honesty of men whose characters belong to the nation. That a number of them have exhibited a disgraceful shuffling in their efforts towards a disagreeable responsibility, is a fact beyond question; and they are reaping the fruits of their cowardice; but the main charge against the purpose on the part of some of our hitherto most honored public men requires proof that will not admit of a doubt, so far as we have examined, with the single exception of Mr. Brooks; the profits alleged to Ames were too paltry in amount to be looked of as a bribe to men possessing the opportunities of a Congressman disposed to be unscrupulous, and while we have not consulted the files of the Globe, we see it stated that the record of votes in Pacific Railroad legislation shows no sign of favoritism on the part of the members in question.

In peddling out his stock Mr. Ames appears to have found it necessary to plead interest from per cent, which would argue the poverty of the purchasers as to the great profits of the concern, and the censure comes in where they accepted the settlement which showed the enormous rate of dividends. It is now known, however, that in stock speculations the profits and losses are out of all proportion to the actual amount of investment, and some of the Congressmen seem to have been so pleased with the result of the friendly venture of their millionaire colleague that they accepted it without question, until subsequent developments aroused their suspicions. Whether they then promptly annulled the transactions by giving up all claim to the stock is the question which lies between them and Oakes Ames, and which, while it involves their veracity does not necessarily—as we are thankful to believe—involve their corruption as legislators.

The matter has assumed the proportions of a scandal upon the country as well as upon Congress, and the public mind has been wrought up to a point when the mere ownership of any sort of railroad security by a member is likely to subject him to all sorts of imputations. The subject must eventually be treated on its merits and when second thought has shown the absurdity of denying to a Congressman the right to invest his funds; the question of motive will be the test of the conduct of public men. The attempt to give this miserable business a partizan character has disastrously failed, and its only political bearing will be found in the proof which the Republican party has afforded of its ability and promptness in instituting and carrying out the most thorough, impartial and public investigation of charges affecting some of its most prominent members, to let them stand or fall by the facts disclosed.

The bill introduced in the House Thursday by Mr. Titcomb of Augusta provides that the pay of members of the Legislature shall be $500 for the regular session and $3 a day for special sessions. The session pay of the clerks of the two branches is fixed at $500 and the assistants at $250. The pay of members of the executive council is fixed by the bill at $3 a day for the session. The members of Legislature and council are allowed $8 for every ten miles travel one way for each session. Members are to have deducted from their pay $3 for every days absence.

The editor of the State expresses a rather mild and patronizing appreciation of the calibre of the Portland Lyceum audiences, which he says, in referring to the lecture of Edmund Yates:—"To a great many of his audience we do not doubt it was full of interest. And yet it was largely common-place."

THE CREDIT MOBILIER.

The special Washington correspondent of the Boston Advertiser writes that an examination of the votes of those members of the House who took Credit Mobilier stock from Oakes Ames makes a most favorable showing for them, and is a complete answer to the charge that they were bribed by stock or that it influenced their course in regard to legislation pertaining to the road. Each one of them, except James Brooks, voted for the act instructing the Attorney-General to inquire whether both the Central and Union Pacific roads had not forfeited their franchises, and directing the withholding of bonds until the matter was decided. Mr. Brooks opposed that part of the bill which was supposed to be in the special interest of the road in a set speech. Mr. Wilson of Iowa was the author of the clause securing the government's lien on the interest due. Mr. Boutwell forced the collection of the interest, and caused Oakes Ames to fail for a large sum. Mr. Bingham called up the most stringent bill to protect the interest of the road passed since the legislation of 1866, and advocated it, and it was this that all voted for when the bill overruling Mr. Boutwell's order for collecting the interest came up in the House. None of the gentlemen on the McComb list took part in its passage, and Messrs. Dawes and Allison were absent on conference committees when it was agreed to. The story in circulation that Mr. Colfax ruled out the resolution of Mr. Washburne of Wisconsin fixing freight rates on these roads, is shown by the Globe to be unfounded. By nearly common consent the charge that these gentlemen were controlled in their legislative duties by stock sold them by Ames has been abandoned here, while the fact that all except Mr. Blaine (and Mr. Boutwell) took some of the stock and received dividends is held fully established, though in several cases this matter was settled on a basis of only 10 per cent. on the investment for the short time the stock was held, and in others the dividends were returned.

The Boston Globe's Washington special has the following account of the exciting scenes in the Committee room on Thursday:

The scenes in Poland's Committee, to-day, were dramatic and painful. Mr. Ames from the beginning showed a bitter and sullen temper, rising occasionally to red heat. His answers were given in growls, his words were curt and fierce, striking like a club or clutched fist. Sometimes they seemed to sound like a thud. He was evidently at bay. He was determined to make good, if possible, his statements, no matter at whose cost. His previous contradictions and present candidness is likely, however, to convince the public that he either does not know or does not care what he says. Certainly he ought to have counsel present, if only for protection. There was quite a dramatic period when Judge Kelley demanded the Mobilier stock certificate and dividends, if, as Ames said, he was the owner of said property, and the latter produced the certificate, and declared he would bring, to-morrow, Union Pacific bonds understood to be a part of the dividends. Mr. Kelley transferred them to the chairman, Mr. Poland, for safe keeping. But the scene between Ames and the Vice President was extremely painful. Mr. Ames flatly, even brutally, contradicted Mr. Colfax, declaring, of course, the correspondent of the Times, that he had, at one time, charged Mr. Colfax with directly false swearing. The latter, under oath, declared, in the strongest manner, that he never had had the $1200. Mr. Ames says he paid him in dividends. Mr. Colfax was white in the face, but deterred in expression. Ames was fierce, angry and nervous throughout. So painful was the scene, and so rapidly did both show loss of control, that Mr. Niblack suggested in kindness that they appear with counsel. There is a tendency to overwork the investigating committee in view of the short period before the session adjourns, and malicious persons here think it is designed to prevent a report and action. The impression is gaining ground that Ames is now endeavoring to incapacitate another as a means of self-defense, and has gone beyond the facts to prove their share in Credit Mobilier.

The Rockland Free Press vigorously advocates the construction of a line of railroad along the Penobscot shore and from Bath to Portland. It says:

There has been enough of talking and resolving; straight ahead, persistent, energetic action is what is needed, and what should be the rule from this time till we see the announcement "From Portland to Bangor by the Knox & Lincoln and Bay & River Railroads without change of cars!" We think the people of Rockland will decide to do their part in hastening that day whenever the question shall be put to them in definite form.

THE BATTLE WITH THE MODOCS. A telegram states that in the recent battle with the Modoc Indians, the latter captured seven guns and a considerable quantity of ammunition. An eye witness says that the troops fought with determined bravery, but could not see their foes. Once only during the day did the Indians manifest a willingness to fight in the open field, and a company of soldiers charged upon them, when they fled to their rocky covers. A dense fog protected each party, and prevented the Indians picking off the troops at long range. The Oregon volunteers, acting as a rear guard, made a gallant fight, and prevented the wounded, the howitzers and camp equipage from falling into the hands of the Modocs. Captain Jack preserves regular military discipline and drills his men every day with the assistance of persons well acquainted with military tactics and ambushing, and who are all supposed to be renegade whites, who have become their allies.

PLACING THE NEW LOAN. The parties to the two proposals which have been pending before the Secretary of the Treasury having united, the Secretary has completed a contract for a negotiation of the remaining $400,000,000 five per cents funded loan with Messrs. Jay Cooke & Co., representing Messrs. N. M. Rothschild & Sons, Messrs. Jay Cooke, McCulloch & Co., and themselves, and with Messrs. Morton, Bliss & Co., and Messrs. Drexel, Morgan & Co., representing Baring Bros. & Co., Messrs. G. Morgan & Co., Messrs. Morton, Rose & Co., and themselves. It is learned that the first intention of the Secretary was to announce one hundred millions, but after further consideration it was decided to place the whole amount, and the parties representing the firms already mentioned combined and agreed to take between them the entire amount. The agreement between the government and the syndicate is substantially the same as that which attended the old syndicate, though the particulars have not been fully reported. It is understood only a few slight modifications have been made, and they are in favor of the Treasury department. The business of the syndicate will be commenced as soon as the preliminary arrangements can be made.

THE SMALL-POX IN BOSTON. The Boston Board of Health have made the following official report in regard to small-pox for the past week: Number of new cases reported, 154; deaths, 36; showing a falling off of more than fifty per cent since the week ending January 4th. The number of cases now existing in Boston is estimated by the City physician to be 322; of which 200 are in the Hospital, and the remainder otherwise isolated. The abatement of the disease has been steady during the month.

The German General Manteuffel made a speech recently at Metz in which he extended Marshal Bazaine from the attacks on his military fame. He dwelt in terms of generous praise on the bravery displayed by the Marshal, which he declared quite equal to that of any General in the German army. The passions of the hour prevented an impartial judgment in this case, but he believed history would justify Bazaine.

Before the Wilson Committee on Friday, Oakes Ames testified [illegible] Governor Clafin, Governor Wendell, Governor [illegible] appointed by President [illegible] and received $25,000 for accepting a piece of the road exempt under the Oakes Ames contract.

ACHING TEETH.

Former advertisements of Dr. Babcock in regard to the feasibility of permanently saving aching teeth having developed considerable skepticism, he would state that during the past two years he has succeeded in saving several hundred teeth, which at the time of presentation were aching in all degrees of intensity and from every imaginable cause. In support of this statement he would refer interested parties to a partial list of cases given below. Dr. Babcock has recently refitted and refurnished his Reception Parlor throughout and in view of the fact, he deems it no egotism in saying that he has the handsomest and most comfortable Reception Parlor in the State. In the ordinary filling of teeth, the "Morrison Dental Enamel" which he now uses exclusively, gives no pain, who ever. Below is a partial list of patients, and while for fifths of such cases are ladies, yet for obvious reasons their names are omitted:

O. C. Darling,	Orlando Moor,
Gen Daniel White,	H. L. Bickford,

AMES AGAIN ON THE STAND—SENATOR LOGAN'S CASE.

WASHINGTON, D. C., Jan. 25. Judge Poland's Committee continued its session this morning when the examination of Oakes Ames was resumed.

Judge Poland—Here is one of the books of the Sergeant-at-Arms containing the list of checks charged to Ames, is one for $320 given to John A. Logan! What was that check given for?

Ames—It was the fashionable amount about those days.

Q. Will you state the transaction you had with Logan, and for what that check was given?

A.—Yes, sir; Logan agreed to take ten shares of the Credit Mobilier stock. I made up a statement showing the balance due him, and gave him a check for the $320 due him. After that he paid me back the money with interest. I prefer that you summon Mr. Logan, and not take my statement alone.

Q.—At what time was the contract made between you and Mr. Logan?

A.—I think in December, 1867.

Q—He paid no money?

A.—No, sir; only that $320 he returned to me with interest.

Q.—He paid you nothing at the time of the contract?

A.—No, sir.

Q.—You received the bonds with his stock and sold them?

A.—Yes, sir.

Q.—And afterwards the money dividend?

A.—Yes, sir.

Q.—And after deducting the amount due you left a balance of $320 due him?

A.—Yes, sir; I remember that the same is for all the rest.

Q.—Did Mr. Logan ever receive anything more?

A.—No, sir; he paid me back the $320 with interest, and I think the interest amounted to two or three dollars. I can't remember dates or amounts exactly, but much prefer that you call Mr. Logan.

Q.—What was said about rescinding the contract when the money was refunded by him?

A.—I don't know what was in his mind at the time.

Q.—When he paid you back the $320 was it the understanding that the stock remained as yours?

A.—Yes, sir.

Q.—So Logan made nothing?

A.—No, sir; only he has the bad name carried by the check for $320.

Q.—And that is all there is in this transaction?

A.—Yes, sir.

Mr. Merrick—Who made the first proposition: you to Logan, or Logan to you?

GENERAL DESIRE FOR THE STOCK.

A.—Well I think the proposition was made to me generally. There were a great many people who thought it was going to be profitable enterprise. I thought he promised in the latter part of Oct. 1867, to let persons have stock. Mr. Wilson of Iowa, wanted more stock; so did Mr. Painter, Mr. Grimes and Mr. Allison; but he could not let them have more. The stock as assigned to him by the Company was to carry out engagements which he had previously made, and he carried them out as near as he could. He thought he had promised some gentlemen in Congress stock prior to December, 1867, as he had been trying to get persons interested in the Union Pacific Road and Credit Mobilier. He had sacrificed some of his own stock in order to fulfil engagements he had previously made, and when he found he could get more stock from the company to fulfil those engagements he did so. He could not remember if he had any conversation with Mr. Colfax in reference to letting him have Credit Mobilier stock prior to December, 1867. Did not think he had any conversation with Mr. Wilson. Mr. Patterson said he had spoken to witness previously, but witness could not remember. Thought he had a conversation with Mr. Bingham and Mr. Scofield. Did not remember as to Garfield and Kelley.

AMES PRODUCES PATTERSON'S RECEIPTS.

Judge Poland—I understand, Mr. Ames, you have some further papers which passed between yourself and Mr. Patterson?

A.—I have. Mr. Ames then produced and read the following receipt:

Washington, June 12, 1868. Received of Oakes Ames $1,800 on account of dividends received by him as Trustee on stock held for my account. J. W. PATTERSON.

Q.—You saw him sign it?

A.—I wrote the receipt and he signed it.

Mr. Ames then read another receipt as follows:

Boston, May 6, 1871. Received of Oakes Ames 200 shares of Union Pacific Railroad stock and $707 24 in cash, on account of Credit Mobilier stock, and there is still due on the transaction 30 shares of stock in the Credit Mobilier of America, and $2000 in the income bonds of the Union Pacific Railroad. J. W. PATTERSON.

Q.—Was that signed by him in your presence?

A.—Yes, sir.

Q.—Was that which was signed by him, in your handwriting?

A.—Yes, sir. The $1,800 is the check I gave him on the final settlement.

Q.—Have you still as other?

A.—No, not exactly. Mr. Patterson wrote me a letter. (Witness here produced it and handed the letter to Judge Poland.) Witness resumed—I received several others which I have torn up.

Judge Poland.—This letter was written this winter?

A.—Yes sir, since this investigation commenced. He wanted me to make testimony to conform to it. I had lots of conversations with Mr. Patterson and have received several letters from him, but this is the only one I have kept. Judge Poland here read the letter which is follows:—

PATTERSON'S LETTER TO AMES—HE TELLS HIM WHAT HE MUST TESTIFY—A DOCUMENT THAT WILL BE HARD TO EXPLAIN.

WASHINGTON, D. C., Jan. 4, 1873.

HON. OAKES AMES.—My Dear Sir: The facts in respect to the Credit Mobilier, so far as I had any connection with it, were as follows: You came to me one day (not knowing that a want of means was a chronic evil with me, and said: "Patterson, if you would like, I can let you have thirty shares of stock in the Credit Mobilier, which I think will be a profitable investment, and will be a good thing for you." My reply in substance was, that if you had anything which I could properly invest in, and out of which I could make some money, I should be glad to take; but that I had not the money at that time, and must defer it till I could get it. Your reply was, that you presumed I could get it later when it might be convenient, and you regarded it a perfectly legitimate transaction. At that time you did not (and could not anticipate you should ever ask for further legislation from Congress in respect to the road, and you never did, except when it was forced upon you by the Secretary.

After this conversation with me you may have had the impress on that I should take the stock some time; but for some reason or other—perhaps for a want of funds—I never took any of the stock. If I never had any stock in the Company, I could not (as I did not have its dividends)

If pressed to know, if I purchased at any time any bonds or stock of the Road, you can say, I did at the time they attempted to embarrass you, when the value of the stock was depressed, and I paid you the full market value for it. I paid you $7,000 in money for stock and bonds. The stock was put into the hands of Mr. Morton, (as same week, to sell as soon as it should go up in the market, which he did. I saw Mr. Morton on my way through, and he said he had never had any stock in the Credit Mobilier for any one; but did not wish to have his name brought into the transaction if it could be avoided.

I am going to Ohio. I will see you on my return. Don't fail to correct your original statement before the Committee. It must not be reported as it now stands.

Very truly,
(Signed) J. W. PATTERSON.

NO MORE CONGRESSMEN INTERESTED.

Question by Judge Merrick—Have you refreshed your memory as to all the members of Congress whom you let have stock?

Ames—Yes, sir; there are none additional, except Mr. Logan. The reason I did not mention him before was that he is not a member now.

Question by Mr. McCreary—Did Mr. Logan give you any reason for returning the money?

WHY AMES HELD THE STOCK IN TRUST.

A.—Don't think he did. Mr. Ames continued:—Want to say further to the Committee that I have been asked why I did not give it to the members themselves. The reason was that Credit Mobilier stock itself was not entitled to dividends. The stock was held by Ames in trust, he having signed the contract making himself personally responsible, and he was the only one who could draw the dividends.

AMES DON'T THINK MUCH OF "CONSCIENCE."

Judge Poland said he had asked Stevenson, who introduced the resolution in the House a few days ago, as to certain records to be investigated and had been informed that he should question Mr. Ames, as he knew something about them.

Mr. Ames—Are you going to investigate?

Judge Poland made a remark about the consciences of certain gents who held stock, and Mr. Ames replied, laughingly:

"Conscience." I am getting a rather low opinion of conscience since I have been here. (Laughter.)

THE DUBUQUE & SIOUX CITY STOCK—NONE GIVEN AWAY—NO CONNECTION WITH PACIFIC R. R.

Mr. Ames was then questioned as to the Dubuque & Sioux City R. R. named in Mr. Stevenson's resolution, but testified he knew nothing of any member of Congress having received stock in the road as a gift. Witness was a stockholder, and he believed that Mr. Allison and Mr. Blaine had also purchased and paid for stock in the road. No member got stock without paying for it. There was nothing immoral or corrupt about the management of the road, and it had no connection with the Union Pacific.

NEARING THE CLOSE.

John B. Alley was recalled and corroborated the testimony of Mr. Ames in reference to the Dubuque & Sioux City R. R., and at 12 o'clock the Committee adjourned until 10 o'clock Tuesday morning, Judge Poland announcing that he expected to close the investigation on Tuesday.

THE ANGLO-RUSSIAN CONTROVERSY—THE DISPUTED ASIAN BOUNDARIES.

There is much uneasiness in consequence of the English note to Russia regarding the disputed boundary question in Central Asia. In the settlement of the relations between the two powers a few years ago on the Forsyth understanding, England only required Russia to abstain from the invasion of Afghanistan, but the boundary of that territory was left undefined.

THE PRESENT NOTE

declares that the northern boundary of Afghanistan commences at the Lake of Siri Kol, in the Pamir Steppe thence follows the Oxus to Kaf ab Saleh, from that point and westward to the Persian frontier. The note further states that England has informed the Emir of Afghanistan that he may right the Russians if they cross this line.

THE RUSSIAN REPLY

declares that the desire of Russia is to maintain good relations with England, but it refuses to accept the indicated boundary because it includes countries that never belonged to Afghanistan but were always independent. Russia's object in taking Khiva is apparently to establish debouche and hold and occupy the whole valley of Oxus.

England draws the line to interfere with Russian purposes and to enable the former power the better to hold Hinder Kush as a line of defence when the day of fighting comes.

THE INVASION COMMENCED.

A dispatch from Lombay states that a Labore newspaper reports that Sirdwn Abdiel Rahmaman under Russian instruction, captured fort Hessan a dependency of Cabul and sent the Governor a prisoner to the Russians, Hessan is a good starting point for the Russians in any movement they may contemplate against the Afghan Turkestan. The same authority states that Sidar Mahomed a Khan, has made an unsuccessful attack on Sherobad in Cabul. The governor of the city was likewise captured and delivered to the Russians.

WEST INDIES.

SHIPWRECKED.

HAVANA, Jan. 24 via KEY WEST 25.

The schooner George Steele, from Savannah for Kingston, was lost during a gale on the 13th inst. sixty miles from Baracoa—all hands saved. On the 16th inst. a party of 100 soldiers and sailors came to the place where the shipwrecked party were and advised them to leave. Everything was abandoned, and they marched 27 miles through the woods to where a Spanish gunboat was. The whole party were conveyed to Baracoa.

OPPOSED TO REFORM.

The Diario says that several Cuban noblemen have asked and obtained of the Captain-General permission to join in the remonstrations of the Spanish Grandees against reforms in the Antilles.

OPENING OF THE VERA CRUZ AND MEXICO RAILWAY.

Advices from the City of Mexico to the 15th inst. have been received. The Vera Cruz & Mexico Railway had been finished.

THE FESTIVITIES

attending the inauguration lasted a week and were participated in by the President, members of the Cabinet, Congressmen and principal citizens. Business was suspended on the first day. President Lerdo de Tejada left the Capital on a train which was preceded by an advanced locomotive.

OBSTRUCTIONS ON THE TRACK.

At Tehuantepec, the first station outside the capital, desperadoes had placed three boulders across the track but with the exception of breaking the cow-catcher off the first locomotive no damage was done. At all the stations where the Presidential train stopped the President was received with enthusiasm.

MINISTER NELSON,

who was just returning from his visit to the United States, met the President at Orizaba and returned with the party to Vera Cruz. The party left Vera Cruz on the 6th and arrived at the capital on the 8th. Several Havana journalists and the officers of the Spanish frigate assisted in the festivities.

THE POLITICAL CONDITION of the country is unchanged. The message of President Grant was regarded as favorable toward Mexico. Nevertheless, complications are feared from the condition of affairs on the Rio Grande. Minister Nelson has returned to the capital.

GERMANY

A SPEECH BY BISMARCK.

BERLIN, Jan. 25. Prince Bismarck appeared in the Chamber of Deputies to-day and was warmly received. In response to their greeting he made a speech explaining that his resignation from the Prussian Premiership was occasioned solely by ill health; there was no disagreement between any of his colleagues and himself.

THE LOUISIANA ELECTORAL VOTE. A Washington special says the vote of Louisiana at the recent Presidential election will have to be counted for Greeley, as the certificate of the Greeley electors was signed by Gov. Warmouth while he was unquestionably Chief Magistrate of Louisiana, while the certificate of the Grant electors was signed by Secretary of State Boyce. To avoid any controversy, however, when the two Houses meet in convention on the 12th of February to count the votes, this proposed that a joint resolution be passed by Congress prior to that time declaring that if the duplicate electoral votes presented from Louisiana shall not affect the result, the President of the Senate in his announcement of the vote, shall give the result with and without these votes adding, "but in either case Ulysses S. Grant is elected President of the United States," and he shall give the vote for Vice-President in the same manner, adding, "but in either case Henry Wilson is elected Vice-President."

THE NORTHFLEET CALAMITY—BELIEF THAT BOTH VESSELS SUNK. A London dispatch says it is reported that a steamship has been discovered sunk at the scene of the collision off Dungeness, light house, Wednesday night. The opinion is becoming general that the vessel which ran into the Northfleet, also went down with all hands before the emigrant ship sunk. The owner of the Spanish steamship Murillo, who landed at Dover two hours before the collision occurred, believes that it was his vessel which was in collision with the Northfleet, and that both were destroyed.

A bill is passing along one of the west side streets in Chicago, which, in the way was observed by some workmen who were carrying a box from an open lot and putting it in a cart which had been backed up against the curb. The bean were of an purple color, and of various sizes—all with a number chalked upon it. Soon it was ascertained that what was happening. The contents of fifty odd city graveyards were being removed to an out of town cemetery to make room for a row of new brick stores. The graves had been disturbed in consequence of early German settlers who, great grandchildren imported the ancient associations of Fatherland and country, and had found ample room in the new cemetery, and wanted to be where they might be gathered to their fathers—or at least, where their fathers might be gathered to them. It was a queer sight to see, as about the streets, it was not a street, anywhere, not so much as a lane that lies that No—not even the alley, in a crowded metropolis, so good that it can decently to the occasion—not even the lead filled but in its stead absence the social state. And yet it was the saddest and most pathetic sight. The rather sacred loved cousins freshness of the turning roses over the sidewalk, and clocked girls and boys peering between the fence rails, and crying out with surprise, snowards yes, great, hairy people with beards full of [illegible] the devil yes dreamy listlessness, what shall come?
